The SMARTtill® Solution has built-in intelligence that integrates with POS software and communicates with a cash management software application called CurrentSee® Enterprise.

Within seconds after a SMARTtill® Solution is closed following a transaction, it calculates the new total cash value against the previous amount in the drawer and reconciles it with the transaction amount recorded by the POS software.

CurrentSee® Software records transaction details such as transaction number and date and time, so any discrepancy is quickly identified. When a discrepancy occurs, the software flags the error and issues an alert to the back office.

With cloud-based reporting and data analytics, CurrentSee® Software tracks and monitors your cash handling activities and cash performance in conjunction with the SMARTtill® Solution in real-time, allowing you to be proactive in cash handling operations, streamline processes, analyze cash losses proficiently and obtain greater detail and insight.

Specific dashboards for exception and generic data management provide tailored scorecards, performance charts, and reports for the SMARTtill® Solution processes and transactions by lane, cashier and store, region or by any custom defined dimension allowing you to gain a clear view of your business and pinpoint areas for improvement. CurrentSee® Software is accessible on either a PC or mobile device, from any location via a secure internet connection, making it a tool that can be used at the end user's convenience and not just within the store during store hours.
